

Learning Project - Week beginning 15/06/20
Why do spiders eat flies?

Maths Fluency Ladder
6	Subtracting 1 (within 10) (EYFS)
5	Adding 1 (within 10) (EYFS)
4	Say 1 less up to 10 (EYFS)
3	Say 1 more up to 10 (EYFS)
2	Count back in 1s to 20 (EYFS)
1	Count on in 1s to 20 (EYFS)

Challenge yourself with the fluency ladder this week. You can make your own large numberline. Use your numberline to show all those maths facts you know! Stand on a number and hop up one more or hop down one less. Can your child hop 2 more? Can they say it as a sentence? 2 more than 2 is 4. 2 more than 3 is 5? Reception children it is time to challenge your parents – do they know their maths facts? Can you check if your family are right? 😊

Maths

- Can you work together to sort different minibeasts by their criteria? You can select a criteria together – minibeasts with wings and without wings? Minibeasts with 6 legs and more than 6 legs? Draw different minibeasts or look online and begin to sort them by their appearance.

- Can you challenge your family with the fluency ladder above? Send in your challenges via dojo! Who is the quickest in your family?

Reading

- This week can you read The Diary of a Spider together? You will find a copy of this on YouTube if you don't have your own version. Talk about diaries and why people have them. Can you start your own diary for this week?

Set 1: 9:30am and 12:30 pm
 Set 2: 10:00 and 1:00pm
 Set 3: 10:30 and 1:30pm

- The newest version of Pie Corbett's Reception units are available via the website <3 Please contact me on dojo if you need anything.

Ideas of other activities to be done throughout the week:

Writing / Drawing

- Can you make salt dough or play dough minibeasts? You can dry out your dough and paint them. This will help you with your maths challenge of classifying minibeasts! Send pictures in of your minibeasts.

- Can you and your child set up your own diary like the Diary of a Spider? Can you write down the jobs you have been doing together or any top secrets you have? Send in your diary entries for us to see <3
- Can you describe your playdough minibeasts? You could write sentences like My spider has 8 legs. He climbs up the water spout.
- Please send your own lovely ideas on dojo for us to see <3
